Sunrise and sunset on the 15th of each month, UK clock time. Helicopters fly by sight and cannot use an unlit site after dark, so the last flight of the day is planned back from sunset. If a flight is cancelled because of the weather, you pay nothing.

A GOLF ESTATE WITH A LONG HISTORY

The landscape was shaped by Capability Brown in the 1750s, and the golf course was laid out by Harry Colt in 1908. The estate is best known to many as the setting for the golf match in the 1964 Bond film Goldfinger. The club's website now lists a Championship Golf Course open to day guests and corporate golf days, a golf academy, and a restaurant called The Penn.

HELICOPTERS: WHAT THE CLUB PUBLISHES

The hotel's website refers to a helipad on site, and an event page for a tennis tournament held there gives a grid reference for helicopter arrivals and asks pilots and passengers to contact the club before flying. That is the strongest published statement we have found, and we treat it as the starting point: we contact the club, agree the date, time and aircraft, and confirm the landing to you in writing.

- Flight: about 11 minutes (16 nautical miles) from Battersea, an estimate.
- Nearby: Heathrow and RAF Northolt, both about seven miles by road according to the hotel.
- Fallback: Denham or White Waltham with a vehicle, if the club cannot take the helicopter.

A GOLF DAY BY HELICOPTER

The numbers favour a morning departure for a round, lunch at the club and a mid-afternoon return, or a late-afternoon flight for dinner with the aircraft staying overnight nearby. A short flight leaves time for a full day on the course rather than a morning on the M4 and M25. If you are a group of up to six, the A109 is the usual aircraft; for eight, we look at the H145.
