Sunrise and sunset on the 15th of each month, UK clock time. Helicopters fly by sight and cannot use an unlit site after dark, so the last flight of the day is planned back from sunset. If a flight is cancelled because of the weather, you pay nothing.

WHY THE HELICOPTER DOES NOT LAND AT THE PUB

A twin-engine helicopter needs a clear, level area with open approach and departure paths, well away from houses, wires and trees. A seventeenth-century pub in the centre of a village has none of that, and the neighbours would not thank anyone for trying. So the honest answer to "can we land at The Wild Rabbit?" is no: the pub is the destination, not the landing site.

WHERE WE LAND AND HOW THE TRANSFER WORKS

For a recent booking to Kingham the helicopter landed at a private site about 0.9 miles from the pub, and a vehicle carried the party to the door and back. We choose and agree the site afresh for each booking, because it depends on the landowner, the ground conditions and the wind on the day.

- Flight: about 32 minutes (60 nautical miles) from Battersea Heliport, estimated.
- Transfer: a vehicle meets the helicopter; allow a few minutes each way, plus time to board and stow bags.
- Return: the vehicle collects you from the pub at the time you give us, and the helicopter is ready at the site.

WHAT A LUNCH DAY LOOKS LIKE

At the time of writing the pub publishes lunch on Wednesday to Saturday from 12pm to 2pm and on Sundays from 12pm to 2.30pm, with light bites only on Mondays and Tuesdays; dinner is Wednesday to Sunday from 6.30pm to 9pm. Check the pub's own site for current hours and book your table first. Then tell us the time.

- Lift off from Battersea about an hour and a quarter before your table, which allows the flight, the transfer and a little margin.
- Land at the site, step into the waiting vehicle, arrive for the booked time.
- Plan the return for early afternoon or mid-afternoon in the colder months, so you are away from the landing site with daylight to spare.

HOW A BOOKING WORKS

1. Tell us the trip
Where from, where to, the date and how many are travelling.

2. We quote
Helicopter options and one fully inclusive price, usually the same business day.

3. We arrange it
Landing permissions, slots and any ground transport are agreed before you fly.

4. You fly
Meet your pilot, board and go. We stay on hand until you have landed.

PLAN YOUR VISIT

- Your table or room booking with the venue, and the time you are expected
- Passengers and luggage, plus any dietary or accessibility needs for the venue
- Our confirmation of the landing arrangement before you commit: it is never assumed
- Your return time: daylight and the landing site decide the latest departure
- A chauffeur car for the last stretch, if the landing site is not at the door
